THE LAND OF THE PILGRIMS.

A PILGRIM is one who journeys to a sacred place.

Three hundred years ago a band of pilgrims landed on our coast and gave thanks to God for bringing them safely over a stormy sea to a land where they might worship Him in peace.

These shores were sacred to them. Their coming has made them sacred to us, for they plowed a path across the sea over which persecuted pilgrims from other lands have followed in search of freedom. Each has brought to our country a hope, an ambition, an ideal which had been cramped or crushed in the land which was his home, believing that here in the land of freedom he and his ideals might thrive and flourish.

Three centuries of welcoming oppressed people of all colors and creeds who have journeyed here to kneel at Liberty's shrine, have made this, in every sense, the land of the pilgrims.

Thanksgiving.

'Twas about three hundred years ago, On a day so cold and drear, That the staunch "Mayflower" a goodly ship

Filled with pilgrims, landed here, The chilling winds raged on the sea, The Indians jacked on land, But with steadfast hearts and fervent faith

Came this resolute pilgrim band. Despite the hardships they endured, Each day the men did toil, They felled tall trees in the forest deep

And planted seeds in the soil. During the days so dark and drear Many of whom they were fond, Were taken far away by God, To the Realm of Peace beyond.

And when the winter came once more To God prayed those still living, They thanked Him for all He bestowed, And called the day "Thanksgiving."

We celebrate it now each year, By laughter and costumes gay, But always remember the faith of those Who first celebrated Thanksgiving Day. By EVELYN P. LEVITTAN, age thirteen, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The Pilgrims.

Out on the dreary ocean Those five score and two set sail, Not by countless hardships daunted, Not by cutting failures paled.

Tossed on the mighty Atlantic They rode on the lullow foam, There hundred and two brave pilgrims, Seeking to find a home.

For their rights they strove and conquered, For religious liberty, They came to an unknown country, A land beyond the sea.

Which now with stars And crimson bars, Is the sign of Liberty. By CHARLES WHITE, age ten, Jersey City, N. J.

Thanksgiving Day.

It was a cold November day, The turkeys hidden in the hay, Were thinking of Thanksgiving Day, They heard the farmers, very clear, Say Thanksgiving Day was near, So they hid away down in the hay, And stayed there all Thanksgiving Day.

By DOROTHY ROGERS, age thirteen, Beacon, N. Y.

COUPON 868.

OCTOBER CONTEST AWARD WINNER.

Fifteen Year Class.

What I Do With My Spare Time.

Unfortunately, I have not very much spare time. However, I am not always taken up with lessons, and duties and so, occasionally I am free to do whatever I wish.

What is better than a long, long walk through the woods on a cold, brisk autumn day? Then we can appreciate nature in all her autumnal beauty. Or if not that, who could turn away, in winter, from ice-skating when one fairly dives over the ice while the wind pinches one's cheeks and makes one's eyes sparkle. It just makes one breathe "Oh, how good it is to be alive."

By MICHAELSON, 1327 Clay Avenue, Bronx.

Dandruff Surely Destroys The Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely.

To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Adv.

FOE OF GANGSTERS DIES IN YONKERS

Friends Mourn Death of Ex-Police

Capt. Lent, Who Cleared City of Ruffians.

Former Police Capt. William H. Lent, formerly in charge of the Yonkers police, died last night of apoplexy at his family home, No. 199 North Broadway, Yonkers. He was sixty-eight and had been a member of the force for forty years, having been retired on a pension a year ago.

Before Capt. Lent was commander of the force, gangsters from New York used to go up the river in barges and hold prize fights and cock fights off Yonkers. Lent early made war on the gangsters and never let up until he broke up their river orgies. Gangsters thereafter gave Yonkers a wide berth.

A widow, son and daughter survive the old "fighting cop."

JUST IN FROM WEST, CHARGED WITH THEFT

Chicagoans Accused of Robbing Man of Money and Tickets.

Ralph Marshall, who arrived from Chicago yesterday, was arrested a few hours later at Grand Central Station, charged with taking a wallet with $50 cash and railroad tickets from the pocket of Michael T. Trkulja, Marshall, who is thirty-three, gave his address here at No. 65 Forsyth Street.

Trkulja is a car inspector for the Pennsylvania Railroad and was returning with his wife and two children, whom he had just taken from Ellis Island to his home in Pennsylvania.

Although a stranger in town, Marshall was immediately bailed out by a surety company to await trial. He will be arraigned in Yorkville Court to-day.

Watch Your Gums—Bleeding a Sign of Trouble

Medical science knows how serious is the sign of bleeding gums. For it knows that tender and bleeding gums are the forerunners of Pyorrhea, that dread disease which afflicts four out of five people over forty.

If the disease is unchecked, the gum line recedes, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the Pyorrhea poisons which seep into the system and wreck the health. These poisons often cause rheumatism, nervous disorders, anaemia, and other ills.
